Choosing sensory & wellbeing resources for your learning space

At MTA, we believe in the power of sensory and wellbeing resources to help all children flourish. Our range helps meet the diverse needs of learners and supports development through exploration, self-regulation and confidence.

Unlock discovery

From stimulating fibre optics to soothing dark dens, our sensory play range helps children investigate and make sense of the world around them. These resources help to build the brain's nerve connections through curiosity and creativity.

Calm, focus and reset

From squishing to popping, our popular range of handheld fidgets, as well as other sensory and tactile resources, from colourful acupressure balls to sensory tubes, help children soothe and reset, as well as provide calm and focus.

A balancing act

MTA's wide sensory range of balance beams, pads, boards, jumping balls and stepping stones promote children's cognitive, fine motor and gross motor skills, as well as promote balance, coordination, movement and spatial awareness.

Emotional exploration

Our wellbeing resources range from games that explore emotions, to affirmation cards, yoga mats and calming weighted resources, all designed to support anxiety and mental health, respectful relationships and bullying prevention. These resources help children to create a deeper understanding of themselves and others and build a sense of empathy.

We're passionate about supporting you with the right sensory and wellbeing resources. Our team brings a depth of insight that can help you carve out something as ambitious as a multi-touch sensory room, to filling a sensory tray, to supporting the big feelings of the young people in your care.

Please reach out to us if you'd like to know more about sensory or wellbeing solutions for your early childhood centre or school.

Shape your sensory space with MTA

Plan, visualise and create a sensory-rich environment designed for exploration, calm and discovery.
